HISTORY OF

1957 - 1992

DEDICATION

This book is dedicated to the memory of Alvin A. Feinstein for following his dream and to the original Shareholders who took the risk so that the vision of Enchanted Valley could continue.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The History Committee would like to thank Anne (Feinstein) Gutterman and her children. The Feinstein Family's willingness to talk with committee members about the early years of Enchanted Valley assisted the committee in providing information and memorabilia for this book. Special thanks is also given to all of the Shareholders who have contributed information towards the contents of the "History of Enchanted Valley."

FOREWORD

On the occasion of the 25th Anniversary of the incorporation of Enchanted Valley, a history of this unique facility seemed warranted.

Although there are a number of second generation families that have become shareholders, at this time only 17 of the original shareholders still belong to EV. Therefore, it became even more important to document the history of EV before the information was forgotten or misplaced. Indeed as different facets were discussed, memories were jogged and provided some of the more interesting stories found herein.

The writers also realize that reporting recent history opens the door for disagreement about the information listed. We have endeavored to substantiate the information as best as we could. In many instances there are different data presented, and the more commonly held view was accepted.

This was a formidable undertaking, and we sincerely hope that those who read this will find it interesting and enjoyable.

THE BEGINNING OF ENCHANTED VALLEY

THE FOUNDER OF ENCHANTED VALLEY

Enchanted Valley was founded by Alvin Arthur Feinstein better known as Al. He was born on December 19, 1920 in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada. Al was six feet tall, large framed, heavy set with blue eyes. He was a good looking man with a good personality. He was good with people and liked talking with them. Al married Anne Miles on September 29, 1942 and they had four children: Marra, Leon, Leslie (Judy), and Jimmy.

From about 15 to 18 years of age, Al was a counselor and later a director at a Jewish Camp in Manitoba, Canada which was opened to all denominations. He loved the outdoors. He loved children and worked well with them. He enjoyed camping and being a social director. After college, he was pressured by his father to open a Women's Clothing Store because his father was in the clothing business, but Al didn't like it.

AL'S DREAM

In 1951 the Feinstein family moved from Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada to Redwood City, California. They chose California because of the warmer climate; and Redwood City because Al had a brother who was a pediatrician in the area.

Al started out by selling appliances and then went to work for Allstate Insurance Company. He was very good at selling and did very well at Allstate.

They spent many family vacations camping. At first they camped in tents and then progressed to trailers. One day Al approached Anne and said he wanted to quit Allstate and look for country property. This took Anne by surprise but she realized that Al had a dream and a need to follow it. They spent many vacations looking at real estate. He wasn't quite sure what he wanted but knew he wanted to be outdoors. It took two to three years to find the right property.

In December, 1956 the Feinsteins purchased 57 acres in the Santa Cruz Mountains on Old San Jose Road in the amount of $29,000.00 from Vernon W. Dennen. The creek area was the only developed area. There were only three buildings on the property consisting of a garage, a big cabin, and a little cabin, better known to us as the EV garage, the Sorri's cabin #2, and Anne (Feinstein) Gutterman's cabin #6. The Sorri's cabin #2 was the main house on the property. The remainder of the property was virgin land covered with trees and brush. (It was never a nudist

'Enchanted Valley' Is Newest Addition To Vacation Spots

By Ruth Sheehan

If you should be driving along the Old San Jose road, five miles out of Soquel, and see a huge Indian complete with war paint and tom-tom looming up 40 feet on a hilltop, you are being introduced to the entrance landmark of "Enchanted Valley," a new 58-acre vacation spot now under construction.

The beautifully wooded acreage was acquired last September by Alvin and Anne Feinstein, formerly of Redwood City and Winnipeg, Canada. It is under the managership of Keath and Darline Marten, also from these cities.

Feinstein said "Enchanted Valley" is being designed for the relaxation and enjoyment of the family as a whole, with camping, swimming, horseback riding, and picnicking as the main features.

Fifty campsites are being constructed with barbecues, piped water, toilet facilities, central hot and cold showers, and laundry rooms with automatic washers and dryers.

There will be playgrounds and sandboxes near the campsites.

A 20 by 40 foot heated swimming pool has been completed and should be ready for use next month, weather permitting.

Horseback riding over scenic trails will be another feature offered to campers and picnickers. It is hoped that a stable of ponies or burros for the small fry can be added next year.

Within the natural wooded landscaping will be hiking trails, a section for ping-pong, badminton, horse-shoes, and a baseball diamond.

There will be a terraced sunbathing hill and a lanai that will be illuminated by fairy-lights at night for dancing. A charming outdoor theater is being prepared overlooking a creek for future live drama performances.

A concession is to be erected for light refreshments and for the sale of light cooking staples. Possibly in the future a restaurant will be built with a panoramic view of the Soquel valley. Future winter projects include an artificial ice skating and tobogganing area.

Parking accommodations will take some 200 automobiles.

Feinstein is a former insurance company executive. His wife and four children comprise the family. Marten is a piano technician by trade.

Mrs. Marten has participated in leading acting and directing projects in England and Canada, and was most recently connected with Hillbarn in San Mateo and with Redwood City Players in Redwood City.

New Recreation Grounds Ready

Alvin Feinstein

"Enchanted Valley," a new camping and picnicking site for the entire family, located in beautiful wooded country on the old San Jose road five miles from Soquel, will open Sunday, May 5. It will be provided with a heated swimming pool, 50 camp sites with barbecues, showers and toilet facilities, laundry rooms, playgrounds, and other facilities for picnickers and campers. There is a sunbathing hill. The grounds abound with horseback trails, hiking trails and other outdoor attractions.

The 58-acre vacation and recreation grounds were acquired by Alvin and Anne Feinstein, formerly of Redwood City and Winnipeg. Feinstein is the son of the late Louis G. Feinstein, for years a community leader in Winnipeg. His mother, active in local Jewish affairs, lives in San Francisco. He served in the Air Force and was active in Jewish life in Winnipeg, being the first president of Maple Leaf Lodge Bnai Brith. Until recently he was president of Congregation Beth Jacob in Redwood city.

"Enchanted Valley" is in the Santa Cruz mountains and affords opportunity for relaxation whether for a day of picnicking or an extended camping vacation. There are facilities for trailers. To reach it one should drive to Soquel, then over the old San Jose road five and a half miles. The telephone number is GReenwood 5-1697.

Aside from the natural beauties of the place there are a kiddy koral, dance platform and facilities for light refreshments will be provided. An outdoor theater also is contemplated.

colony as some people believe. The nudist colony is believed to have been located where the Hidden Falls Girl Scout Camp is today.)

PROPERTY CONSTRUCTION

When the Feinsteins first began, Keath and Darlene Marten were their partners. They did not invest in the property but were partners in the idea and concept in building. Keath Marten was good with his hands. He had a lot of carpentry experience and loved the outdoors.

The Marten family moved into both cabins in December, 1956 as resident managers. At the same time Al quit his job with Allstate and moved down with his son Leon. Al and Leon lived in a small trailer which was the one they used for camping. Leon was about nine years old and attended the Old Mountain School on Old San Jose Road which consisted of two rooms. Anne remained in Redwood City with their other children until they sold their home and completed the school year.

Al purchased all the redwood lumber, for a good price, from an old lumber mill which had just closed down. He rented a large truck, loaded his lumber in several hauls, and moved it to the baseball field area near the present entrance. During one of his trips he had a bad accident. He had to stop suddenly and the lumber went forward into the cab of the truck. He was unharmed because the force bent him over and the lumber went over the top of his head. He did loose some lumber but Al was fine. He was obviously destined to complete this project.

Al and Keath surveyed the land of the upper area from Olson Road. They decided where to put the roads, campsites, and buildings trying to preserve large trees and redwoods. Al bought a small tractor to handle the small jobs. The big jobs like cutting roads and leveling large areas were done with a large CAT which was rented. The bathhouses in Middle Camp and the pool area as well as the store/snack bar were put in by Al and Keath. The septic tanks and pool were put in by professionals.

The water tank system was built in several stages. The original one was in Middle Camp. The water was pumped to Upper Camp and supplied the pool area. The original water tank in Upper Camp was originally a wine vat which was steamed out and cleaned. The cement slab where this tank was still has the Feinstein Family's hand prints in it.

Al found an Indian that was approximately twenty feet tall made of paper-mache' in the Redwood City area. It was at a gas station and they wanted to get rid of it. It was well built but was in very poor condition. Al thought it would be a wonderful landmark. He brought it in pieces to the property in a truck. Darlene Marten was very talented and artistic. She rebuilt the whole thing. She had it in pieces in front of the garage, fixed it up, and put it together. At the entrance

Al put in a cement wall with a high ledge. The Indian was placed on top of this ledge. In later years the Indian was destroyed by vandals.

In June, 1957 Anne, Marra, Leslie, and Jimmy moved down and rented a place across the street from the property on Old San Jose Road.

The Feinsteins decided to name the property "Enchanted Valley Family Ranch". The name was chosen because the fog stopped two miles all the way around the property. There were very few days when it would ever fog up. It was usually sunny even though it was foggy everyplace else. They felt it was "Enchanted".

Everything was painted pink and brown. These colors were chosen because they wanted EV to look different. State Park colors were yellow and brown. Green and brown would have blended in with the surroundings. Blue and brown were considered but not chosen. Last but not least Anne was very fond of pink.

ENCHANTED VALLEY OPENING AND ACTIVITIES

In May, 1957 Enchanted Valley opened to the public as a campground for tents, small trailers, day use, and horseback riding. They also had a few tent cabins available to rent. These were large tents on top of redwood decking. The back portion of the tent had cots and the front portion had a table. The tent cabins were in Middle Camp on the higher side of Monterey Pines. All campsites had a water hook up, a fire pit, a picnic table, and a wooden cabinet attached to a tree with the site number on it.

A wooden teepee was built at the entrance at the bottom of the hill. The teepee had a window and someone was there during the day to collect fees and tag cars. The teepee was there for about three to four years and then was destroyed presumably by vandals.

Sometimes campers would come in during the night so every morning Anne hiked up the hills to make sure all cars were tagged.

Al loved horses but had them for only two summers. The horses took a lot of time and energy to take care of. In the winter the horses were farmed out to a neighbor that had a field where they could be kept. At times the horses would escape and Al would have to get up in the middle of the night to find them. It became a real chore.

The hill going to Upper Camp was not yet developed although there was a dirt road that went along the side of the pool and up the hill. This was used as part of the horse trail.

"Life at Enchanted Valley is a Delightful Experience"

There were four or five terraces going up the hill for campsites.

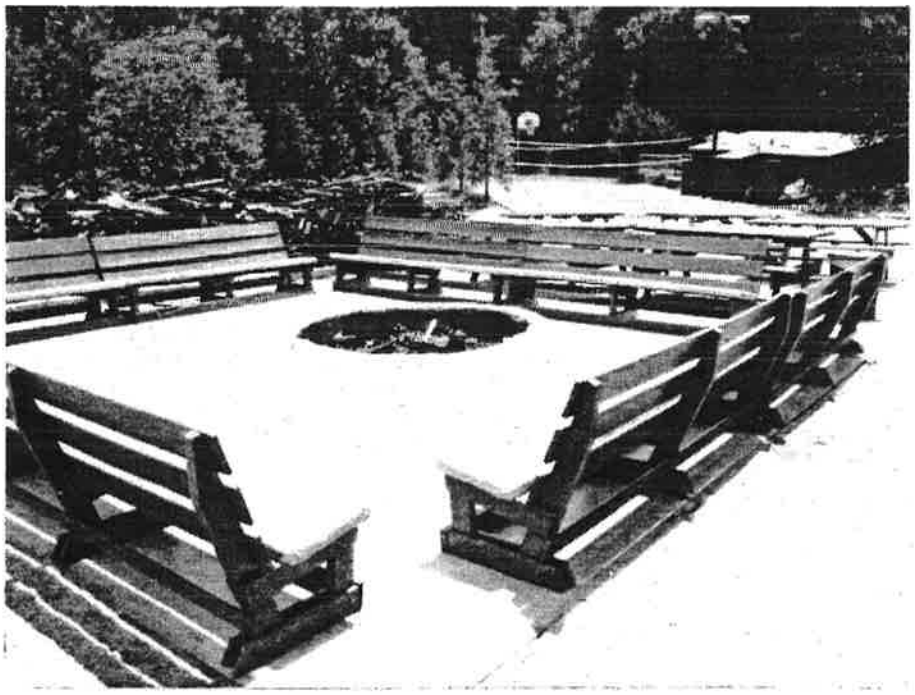
There was also a fenced-in children's playground named Kiddy Koral. It had swings, a sand box, climbing bars, and a little train engine. Kiddy Koral was located in the recreation area.

The pool was monitored by a lifeguard. The first lifeguard was Allen (Red) Aldrich who lived on Olson Road. Later his brother Gary became a lifeguard and even Marra and Leon were lifeguards for awhile. Allen and Gary were not paid very much but had EV privileges. They used to have swim meets for the children and swim time for the adults. All the children, as they grew, learned how to swim at the EV pool. Many of them were taught by Marra and Leon.

Anne's job, with the help of Leslie and Jimmy, was to run the store/snack bar and stock it. For the convenience of the campers grocery items such as milk, bread, eggs, and bacon were sold along with candy, soda, and beer. Bread trucks, egg trucks, and milk trucks came up and down the road. A big freezer (the one we still use today) was used to keep the grocery items. Anne also took care of the EV finances.

Anne remembers the nice part about the store was that she was there with all the children. She really enjoyed it. The children taught her how to play solitaire, had discussions, did arts and crafts, and would play in front of the store. When the children were looking for something to do, they knew they could go to the store and find Anne.

The original fire pit was located where the tetherball is today. In the early 1960's it was relocated to its present location so it would be closer to the store. The 1957 written on the fire pit represents when EV was opened to the public.



They had the most fantastic evenings in front of the store at the camp fire singing songs from the EV Song Book while Al played the harmonica or ukulele. Also anyone who had a voice or played an instrument would perform. At one time there was even an organized EV Band.

Al had a flatbed trailer which he hitched up to the tractor and put bales of hay on it for hayrides. Later he got a truck which he painted pink and brown. He put sleigh bells and a megaphone on the top of the cab so he could lead sing-a-longs with the children. They would drive down Olson Road. When leaving on the hayride the children would say, "We're going to Heidi's!" This was a little girl who lived at the end of Olson Road. You couldn't see her house but only the rock stairway leading to her home. Her name was actually Sheila but everyone called her Heidi. They called her Heidi because she reminded them of the character in the children's book "Heidi". When Heidi heard the truck, she'd come and sing along with the children. They stayed there for about twenty minutes while Al and the children sang. He loved singing to the children and the children would be spellbound.

On the holiday weekends Al and Anne would put on pancake breakfasts, chicken dinners, and games for the children. Everyone would pitch in and help. There was always a chicken barbecue and talent show on Labor Day Weekend. For many years either Jim Boyd, Rocky Serochi, or Saul Kanter were the Master of Ceremonies. One of the most memorable skits was Jim Boyd talking to "GOD".

On the Fourth of July fireworks were set off in the parking lot. Each family took turns setting off their own.

The flat area to the right as you enter EV was a baseball diamond. There was a wooden backstop that sat back in the bushes and faced out towards the mountain side.

There also were organized hikes to Hidden Falls and other areas.

The teens would get together and dance on the tetherball pad. They would also have camp outs on the lawn area next to the pool.

Every weekend in the summer season 16mm movies were shown on a large screen located outside of Pappy's Porch facing the lawn area. An outhouse was converted to house the projector and protect it from rain. Jimmy acted as the projectionist. Everyone would bring their sleeping bags and cuddle up on the benches to watch the movies. These movies were selected from a catalog and rented by mail.

CHANGE OF OWNERSHIP

Keath and Darlene Marten left EV after the first season. The Feinsteins then moved into the two cabins in the creek area.

After the campground was open for a number of years, they found that it wasn't as profitable as they would have liked. Al had another job in the off season just to keep it going.

In 1960 the Feinsteins sold EV to Mr. Martin and Mr. Finnin. Their plans were to sell shares and turn it into a private camp. They did a lot of landscaping. They graded the hill where the caretaker's residence is. The dirt was put on the other side of the pool where the lawn area is. That area went straight down and by dumping the dirt there it became a nice flat area. Their plans were to put in a tennis court in that area. They were also going to build a lodge with a restaurant on top where the caretaker's residence is. They had a lot of great ideas but they only had it one summer. They were not able to make the payments and the Feinsteins had to take it over in late 1960.

Al spent that winter at EV by himself. Anne and the children stayed in Menlo Park to finish out the school year and to sell their home. It was very hard on the family to make the move.

ENCHANTED VALLEY BECOMES A PRIVATE FAMILY RANCH

In May, 1961 Al decided to make EV a private family ranch and allow families to lease sites for cabins, trailers, or tents. The families could come and stay anytime they wanted to. This helped out financially and families liked the idea. Later Al had trouble with the planning commission because, by law, the trailers could not tie into the septic tanks. EV could only be a campground with tents and small trailers or cabins. Al decided to go with cabins because some families already had cabins. The first cabin built was Gene and Meta Mahoney's cabin #34.

In 1966 a floor and walls were built under and around a grove of redwood trees. Everybody pitched in to build it and Tony Kram was the project leader because he had the expertise. A contest was held to name this area and the name Pappy's Porch was chosen. Ward Atwood had submitted the name Pappy's Porch under his daughter's name Jenny. One evening before a movie Al announced Jenny Atwood as the winner. She was very surprised because she was unaware of what her father had done. The prize was $2.00 and that was a lot of money for Jenny at that time. Pappy's Porch was and is used for many activities including dinners, dances, and weddings.

Upper Camp was opened in 1964. The first Upper Camp bathhouse was built in 1964 and the other was built around 1966.

The Feinstein family worked very hard in the summer helping with the chores. They cleaned bathhouses, picked up garbage, cleaned the pool, and ran the store/snack bar. Al was like a "Pied Piper". When he made the rounds the children would hop on the truck and go along with him.

Al was always finding miscellaneous items that were inexpensive to fix up and use. He was a hard worker. There were good times and hard times for the Feinstein family but we are all very thankful that Al followed his dream. As Anne said, "Children who have ever been to Enchanted Valley never forget Enchanted Valley."

Al passed away December 30, 1977.

ENCHANTED VALLEY INVESTORS

ENCHANTED VALLEY BECOMES INCORPORATED

In early 1967 a decision was made to incorporate Enchanted Valley and on August 17, 1967 EV was incorporated as Enchanted Valley Investors, a California Corporation. On November 10, 1967, the Corporation purchased the real property of EV which consisted of 57 acres. The total price of $193,854.32 was established by an independent appraiser. Two deeds of trust on the property at that time totalled $68,854.32. The balance of $125,000.00 was exchanged for 1250 shares of stock at $100.00 per share by Al and Anne Feinstein, the sellers of the property. All of the real property and improvements belonged to the Corporation.The improvements included: roads, internal water system, secondary power lines, swimming pool, four bathhouses, store/snack bar and equipment, caretaker's cottage, workshop, dance floor, barbecue tables and pits, garbage bins, and miscellaneous items. Cabins were individually owned by each shareholder family.

In 1967 the list of the original Shareholders according to Al Feinstein's records were: Gene and Meta Mahoney, Bernie and Carol Sideman, Rocky and Nell Serochi, Saul and Gloria Kanter, Steve and Katie Popolizio, Don and Rosanna Kelsey, John and Jean Sparks, Horace and Connie Hinds, Elmer and Virginia Campbell, Bob and Carol Hillbun, Henry and Barbara Charling, Smokey and Ulabel Elder, Tony and Marie Marino, Pete and Regenia DiVenere, Lloyd and Marjorie Smith, and Al and Anne Feinstein.

On July 20, 1969, the Corporation purchased back 850 shares of stock (at $100.00 a share) remaining out of the original 1250 shares and gave Al and Anne Feinstein, the sellers, a promissory note and deed of trust. At this time it was decided that no one family could own more or less than 25 shares of stock in the Corporation. Every family therefore had an equal voice in the operation and the policy making. In February, 1971 the decision was made to limit the number of Shareholders to 65 families.

A monthly site fee was paid by each family to cover operating costs which included: water and electricity for each cabin site, garbage pick up service, bathhouse facilities, manager and caretaker services, recreational activities, property taxes, insurance, repairs, and maintenance. Personal property tax on cabins and decks were paid for by each family.

The heating of cabins and cooking was done by gas at each family's expense. All butane tanks were rentals from the gas company.

The Board of Directors was elected each year by the Shareholders at the Annual Dinner Meeting. The Board met once a month to manage the affairs of the Corporation. At one time Board positions were two year terms and the Board consisted of seven members. In September, 1968 the number of Board members was increased to nine. In September, 1982 the number was decreased back to seven.

On December 3, 1967 the first Shareholder's meeting was held at the Mahoney's cabin #34 at 1:55 p.m. Those in attendance included: Hank Charling, Gene Mahoney, Gloria Kanter, Rocky Serochi, Al Feinstein, and Anne Feinstein. It was unanimously agreed that Enchanted Valley Investors sponsor a non-profit voluntary association of campers to be known as Enchanted Valley Campers Association. The first Board of Directors meeting was held on the same date at 4:45 p.m.

The first officers of the Corporation elected by the Shareholders on September 28, 1968 were: President Al Feinstein, Vice-President Anne Feinstein, Treasurer Bernie Sideman, and Secretary Neil Serochi. At that time it was decided that an Annual Shareholder's Meeting would be held the third Saturday of September and the Board of Directors would meet the third Saturday of each month. On June 10, 1973 it was decided to have Semi-annual Shareholder's Meetings. The meetings would be held on the first Saturday of June and the third Saturday of September.

On May 25, 1970 the Corporation sold seven acres to partially satisfy an existing note to the Feinsteins. This parcel was part of the original 57 acres but was not contiguous to the main property.

CORPORATE FACILITIES

In this section matters having to do with the corporation are addressed. This includes a history of some of the physical assets of the corporation as well as other matters dealing with the corporation as a whole such as cabin sites and natural disasters.

RESTROOMS-BATHHOUSES

Three of the restrooms were actually constructed before incorporation, the first around 1957 and the other two in the mid 60's. In February, 1970, it was decided to construct a restroom in Lower Camp. Initially none of the cabins had toilets or showers, and the corporate restrooms were a necessity. During the early days of EV these buildings functioned as laundry areas for washing clothes. There were also large sinks that were used for washing dishes. Thus they served as social gathering areas.

Although cleaning and painting were periodically done, by the 1980's the buildings needed to either be replaced, have major repairs, or be removed. By this time there were only four cabins that didn't have bathrooms, and all had kitchens. However, the Shareholders voted to do major repairs on all five restrooms-although the number of toilets and sinks was reduced. The roof and wall boards were checked piece by piece and rotted timbers were replaced. The outside appearance of the structures remained unchanged.

Although the restroom by the pool was similar to the other four restrooms, it was frequently referred to as the bathhouse.

PAPPY'S PORCH

The redwood grove next to the Store/Snack Bar was chosen for an outdoor dining and dance area. In 1966 this project was completed at a cost of $1267.59 for materials. Shareholder Tony Kram was the project leader, and labor was provided by other shareholders. Pappy's Porch is used for many social activities including meals, card games and dances.

STORE/SNACK BAR

The Store/Snack Bar was also one of the original buildings put in by Al Feinstein and Keath Marten in 1957. The store was remodeled in 1981 and renovated in October, 1988. An outdoor kitchen area was added at the back of the building in June, 1989.

CARETAKER'S WORKSHOP

Originally called the Lanai this building was used for the Feinstein family dinners. Craft classes for the kids were held there during the summer season.

Over the years there were a number of suggested uses for this building. In the early 70's possible use as an infirmary, manager's office, and game area for the children was discussed. It eventually became the caretaker's workshop.

CARETAKER'S RESIDENCE

After incorporation Al Feinstein was hired as Manager/Caretaker and lived in Lower Camp, cabin #2. In 1970 Fred Sorri bought the caretaker's cabin, and the money from the sale was used to pay off a note to Al Feinstein. Following that caretakers used several different cabins (Cabins 1, 2, 29, and 31) until the official residence was completed in 1975.

Approval for a permanent caretaker's residence was made April, 1975; contracted price $18,500. The building was completed in October, 1975. The contractor was shareholder Tony Kram. Large volunteer efforts helped complete the work below cost at $16,938.51 which included all appliances, drapes, and decking.

OFFICE/BOARD MEETING BUILDING

The first Board Meetings were held at various shareholder's cabins. As time went on the need for an official building to conduct Board meetings and to store Corporation documents became more acute. Discussion and arguments took place in the late 70's regarding the type of facility as well as the best location for it. The debates were essentially whether to have an office versus a much larger facility that would have included new kitchen facilities and a large meeting room. Additionally the building's location was argued. The sites included the current office location, the area by the volleyball court, and the area by the horseshoe pits. In those years Shareholders' meetings were held at area restaurants. The office building issue was so emotionally charged and caused so much dissension at the 1979 dinner that this event, which had been present for 10 years, was discontinued. The majority vote was for the office as it is today. A special assessment of $80.00/Shareholder was used to finance the construction. Except for the concrete pad the new office was constructed entirely by volunteer shareholders. The cost of the building was $6,367.00. The first meeting was held there on April 11,1981.

BARBECUE PIT

Prior to incorporation several small barbecue pits were located along the arbor with individual picnic tables. In April, 1971, the current large barbecue pit was authorized. It has been the location of many outstanding cookouts. One of the more memorable meals was a barbecued pig in 1981. It sustained some damage in the 1989 earthquake and had to be rebuilt.

EV BELL AND FLAGPOLE

In 1974 Billy Dilden, a shareholder, supplied the first bell. The original intent was for fire warning, and then later it was also used to call people to meals. The original bell was on the roof of the store, then it was placed on a pole at the edge of the parking lot. The pole was replaced when the flower bed was replanted in 1992. When Billy left in 1979, he took the original bell with him. Caretaker John Espinola purchased a new one in September, 1980 for $100.00.

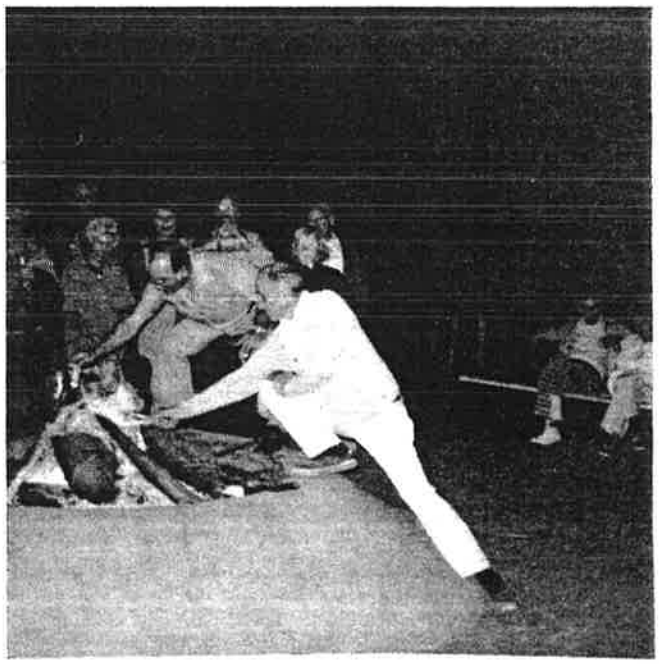
In close proximity to the EV bell is the flagpole. It is unclear how long a flagpole has been located at the edge of the parking lot, but the one present at this time replaced the flagpole which fell in 1990 damaging a shareholder's car.

EV GARAGE

In Lower Camp the EV garage has been in use since the 50's. It is unclear whether it has ever been used as a garage per se. But it has been used for storage of machinery and various materials over the years. To the east of the garage was an area well-remembered by the "old timers" which was referred to as the Duck Pond and Waterfall. However, it is unclear whether there ever was much of a waterfall, and shareholders remember very few ducks in the pond!



MORTGAGES

Financing of EV was a major challenge in the early days. In December, 1956, fifty-nine acres were purchased for $29,000. by Al Feinstein from Vernon W. Dennis. In 1960 it was sold to Mr. Martin and Mr. Finnen. However, they were unable to make the payments, and the Feinsteins took it back later that year. The Feinsteins continued to operate EV and incorporated August 17, 1967. On November 10, 1967, the corporation purchased the real property of EV.

In 1969 a proposal was received from Al Feinstein to sell his stock to the Corporation. The first note to County Bank was $46,640.56. The second note was to Al Feinstein for $22,213.76. In January, 1971, the second deed was sold to Shareholder Smokey Elder.

In addition to trying to pay off these notes, Santa Cruz County in 1970 required EV to install a septic system. Up until this time 50 gallon metal drums that had been sunk in the ground were used by most shareholders for sink drainage only. In September, 1970, a map was drawn and work was started on a complete septic system for the entire camp, at the approximate cost of $13,000. Shareholder Smokey Elder loaned the Corporation this amount for the septic system.

In December, 1975, all three notes were finally cleared: first mortgage to County Bank; second mortgage to Smokey Elder; septic note to Smokey Elder. The ceremony for burning the first mortgage was held in September, 1975 (prior to the actual pay off) so that more members could attend.

USE PERMIT

Probably the most unique legal aspect of EV is the Use Permit with Santa Cruz County. The Valley was originally chartered as a non-profit voluntary association of campers in 1967. Under this heading it was considered a mountain retreat and was under county jurisdiction. Subsequently it was considered an organized camp and came under state jurisdiction. Because the Building Department and other county agencies required building permits and there were increased permanent structures in the Valley, in June, 1972, a State Health representative visited the Valley and decided it was not an organized camp and permit for same was withdrawn.

Through the remainder of 1972 negotiations between Attorney Al Levine and Manager/Caretaker Bob Husmann, and the Santa Cruz County Attorney, State Bureau of Sanitary Services and county personnel took place. A modified use permit still in existence today was the result of those negotiations. The permit was officially approved by the Santa Cruz County Board of Supervisors in February, 1973.

CABINS

Although EV began as a privately owned campground with tents and small trailers, eventually walls of plywood and canvas roofs replaced these more temporary structures. The first "official" cabin with four walls and a permanent roof belonged to Shareholders Gene and Meta Mahoney, Cabin #34 which still exists today!

In September, 1969, the Board of Directors decided that the maximum size of the structures would be 25 feet by 25 feet. This figure was revised October, 1972 to a maximum of 1000 square feet which it has remained.

Site fees for each cabin site have been the primary source of income for the corporation. Prior to incorporation the site fees varied by the size of the site and the proximity to the restroom! By November, 1970, the site fees were paying the monthly expenses. In 1967 one of the campsite fees was $28.00 a month. By 1971 the monthly site fee was running $50.00 a month. In 1991 the monthly site fee reached $90.00 a month.

Some of the original cabins sold in the $500-$1000 price range. By the 1990's sale prices as high as $110,000 were being asked. By this time, however, nearly all the cabins had their own bath and toilet; some had expensive wood cabinets and carpeting thus helping to increase their value.

The numbering system for the cabins is an interesting story and sometimes makes it difficult to locate a particular cabin when reading the minutes of the Board meetings. For example, there were cabin #1's in every section. (See section on "Shareholders Over the Years"). In March, 1973, primarily at the urging of the Fire Department the cabin numbering system was changed. However, upon review the Fire Department was not satisfied and proposed their own numbering system which was completed in December, 1976, and remains unchanged to this day.

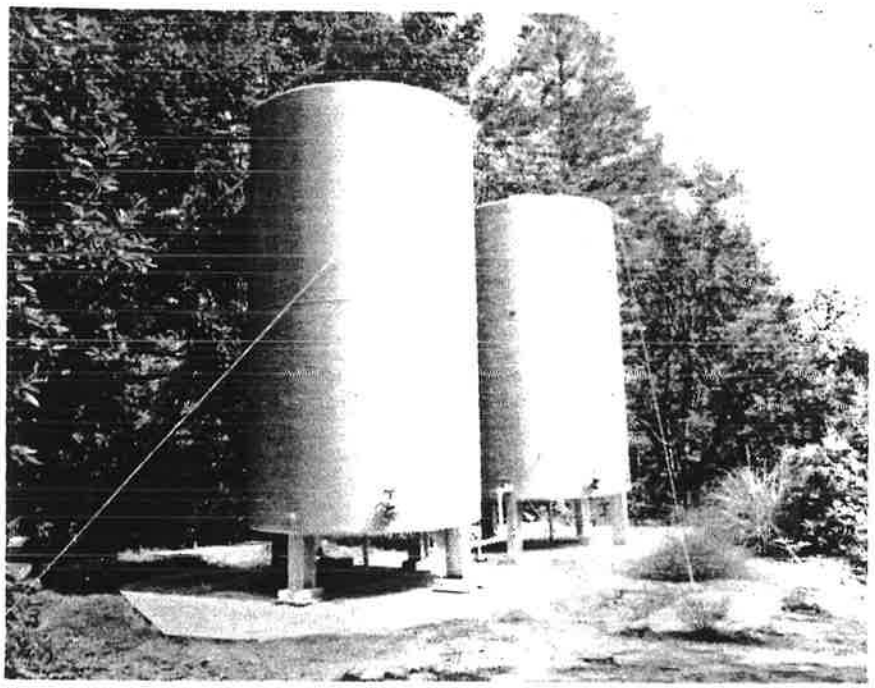
Although there have been several maps, in the early 1980's Business Manager Charlie Lambert began a surveyed map of EV with cabins, corporation facilities, septic tanks, etc. This map was completed in March, 1987.

WATER SYSTEM

Initially water for EV came from a spring owned by the Olive Springs Water Supply Company of which EV was part owner. The original 5,000 gallon redwood water tank was in Middle Camp between cabins 18 and 20 (and still exists today). From there water was pumped to a steamed and cleaned 8,000 gallon wine vat on a cement slab above the Rifle Range. The slab has remained and is still used today as the pad for the north water storage tank.



In June, 1973, the redwood wine vat began to look like the Leaning Tower of Pisa and was replaced by two 10,000 gallon redwood tanks installed above the Rifle Range. These were used for water storage until the October 17, 1989 earthquake when one of the tanks was badly damaged. The second tank was repaired and used until the installation of two new 5,000 gallon steel water tanks in August, 1990 and April, 1991. In addition a new 3,000 gallon polyethylene spraying tank was installed near the swimming pool area in May, 1991.

The pumphouse for the Olive Springs Water Supply Company was destroyed in the flood of January, 1982. Fortunately in December, 1976, it was decided to drill a well. The well was used only as a backup until 1982. The well site by the entrance area near the baseball field was actually located by a "Witcher". The well was drilled 215 feet with approximately 30 gallons/minute flow rate. The water was pumped from the well to the spraying tank by the pool and from there to the holding tanks above the Rifle Range area. The well pumphouse was completed by March, 1978.

A portion of the water distribution system was thin-walled plastic polyethylene tubing. The system was fed from the spring with the tubing suspended across the creek. One holiday there was a loss of water pressure that occurred because someone shot the polyethylene tubing full of holes! In the 1970's the tubing began disintegrating requiring significant staff time to repair plus wasting water. New water lines were installed in Lodge Heights in March, 1978 for $9,700. and in Middle Camp in June, 1979 for $8,500. The distribution system was designed by a shareholder. When the new water lines were laid in Upper and Middle Camp, service hydrants were added for these areas. Lower Camp in 1992 is supplied with the original galvanized pipe.

Olive Springs Water Suppy Company is not just a memory. The spring is still flowing and the Water Company, although inactive, still exists.

ROADS

Roads for the Valley were cut by Al Feinstein. As mentioned earlier, the roads were cut around 1957 using a large rented CAT. The roads originally were base rock and beginning in the early 1970's asphalt surfacing was used. Road repaving projects took place in the early 80's. By the late 1980's resurfacing of virtually all the roads was completed.

NATURAL DISASTERS

While EV has been fortunate in avoiding natural disasters that could have destroyed the Valley, several natural disasters have occurred that caused significant damage.

In the big storm (January, 1982) the pumphouse for the Olive Springs Water Supply Company was destroyed. By that time EV had its own well and elected to forego paying to repair the pumphouse.

There have been several minor landslides in the Valley over the years but no significant destruction of cabins or corporation facilities has occurred.

The most severe natural disaster to hit EV was the earthquake on October 17, 1989 which measured 7.1. Most cabins had some damage consisting of broken windows, broken dishes, etc. The greatest damage to buildings was in Lodge Heights. Significant damage occurred to the following cabins: Boucke, #43; Drekmeier, #38; Elder, #63; Flaherty, #39; Ganser, #56; Doug Hoffman, #48; Cissy Hoffman, #47; Jacobs, #65; Onzo, #44; Pontier, #61; Przybyla, #50; Stephenson, #49; and West, #45. Only two of these, West's and Pontier's had to be completely torn down and rebuilt.

As a result of the earthquake damage in the Santa Cruz Mountains, government agencies requested permission from EV to cut trees overhanging a portion of the Old San Jose Road. As a result of this request, the caretaker was checking the area with County personnel and when they left, he began walking along Sanden's road and the hillside east of there. A large fissure was found near the top of the ridge and across from the cabins in Upper Lodge Heights. After the County was notified and following EV's concurrence, the hill was sloped and graded by Granite Rock Construction. The dirt was dumped on the Rifle Range area.In order to access this area a new road was cut from Sanden's road. Granite Rock estimated that 2,200 tons of dirt was removed from the hillside and dumped on the Rifle Range. Many trees were removed from the hillside including some large redwoods that mysteriously disappeared. Some of the remaining wood was cut and split for fireplace use.

There have been two big freezes since Enchanted Valley has existed. The first was in 1973 and with that one the water in the toilet tanks in the restrooms and the cabins actually froze to a solid block of ice. There was a second freeze on December 23, 1990 which caused multiple breaks to the water lines inside cabins and also to the outdoor lines especially to valves and pressure reducers.

Occasionally trees have fallen and caused cabin damage. Terry Hutson's Cabin #12 roof was damaged. In 1992 a 275 foot redwood tree fell across the creek severely damaging Green's Cabin #3.

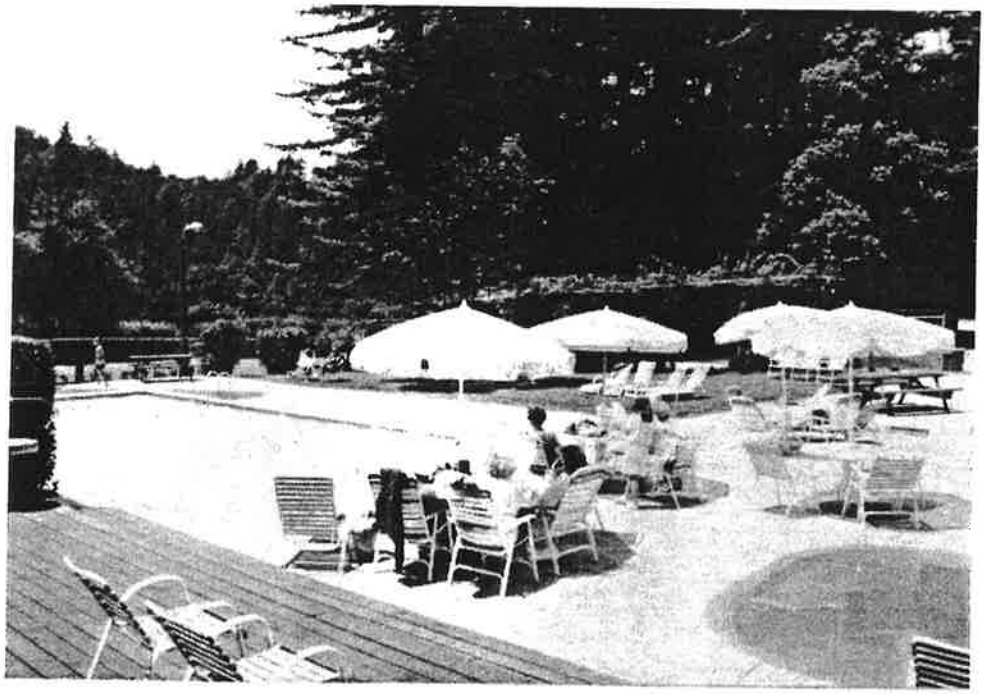
ENCHANTED VALLEY SPORTS FACILITIES

SWIMMING POOL

The swimming pool was built in 1957 under the direction of Al Feinstein the owner and founder of Enchanted Valley. The pool was designed by Paddock Pools of California. The pool size is 20' x 40' and holds approximately 30,000 gallons of water. The wooden deck adjacent to the pool was added in the 1970s in order to provide additional sun which was blocked by the fast-growing trees. In the late 1980s the cyclone fence was added to close in the perimeter of the pool to satisfy insurance company requirements. The small pump house adjacent to the pool stores the pool heater and filtration system. Over the years the pool has had minor repairs and replaster jobs, but in 1992 the pool underwent a major facelift. The pool deck, coping, tile, diving board, ladder, and skimmer were replaced. In addition, the pool was replastered and the wading pool was cleaned and repainted. The facelift also included the rebuilding of the arbor near the lawn area and slight modifications to the pool equipment house.



The pool area is rich with historical happenings that include many events of lasting memories. In the early days the swimming pool was operated under the watchful eye of a lifeguard. After several years of paying salaries and difficulty obtaining qualified lifeguards to work, it was decided to supervise the pool on our own. Other activities included many water games such as water volleyball, baseball, "Marco Polo," teen dance parties, ice cream socials, lawn games, poker, bridge games, weddings, and skinny dipping! Probably the most common happening is the regular gathering of family, friends, and fellow shareholders under the shady arbor. This area is the site of many fine stories, jokes, music, relationships, and fun!

BASKETBALL COURT

In the early days a wooden post with a wooden backboard was located near the redwood trees near the lawn area and everyone played in the dirt. Currently the ping pong tables are located there. Often this was the scene of many challenging, grudging, barefoot basketball games which often ended with cuts and bruises! It should be noted that this court area served as the seating area for the Saturday night movies shown on the big white screen now located on Pappy's Porch. In the mid-1970s the basketball backboard was relocated to its present location near the volleyball court. A regular problem was rolling the ball over the hill behind the court. In 1990 an old net was put up to catch the wayward balls.

VOLLEYBALL/BASKETBALL COURTS

This paved court surface area was completed in 1968 for use as a volleyball, badminton area. Shortly thereafter the basketball standard was installed and dual use of this area began. In the early days this court was very heavily used by all families. On Friday and Saturday nights 20-30 adults and teens played very competitive volleyball matches.

HORSESHOE PITS

The horseshoe pits were installed in 1972. This sunny area just below the caretaker's cabin has always been the site of EV horseshoe players. In 1991, the shade covering was added for the comfort of players and spectators. This area was once considered for the location of a "club house."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The merry-go-round was installed in the early days and has always been an exciting special attraction for children and some adults! One can always hear the words, "Dad, Mom Push Me–Real Fast." For many years dirt was below the merry-go-round and was the site of continual "dirty clothes." In 1991, sand was installed below the merry-go-round for added safety to riders.

BASEBALL DIAMOND

In the early 1960s the flat area to the right of the entrance adjacent to the current garbage dumpster was a baseball diamond. The wooden backstop was located back in the trees facing out toward the side of the mountain and the EV entry road. The dirt in the area was cleared and leveled for a regular baseball diamond. Hard hit balls often hit the side of the hill with a player running up the hill to catch the ball. The grudge games of the early years were the famous "Father/Son" rivalries. The early contests were spearheaded by Rocky Serochi and Jim Boyd. As many old-timers can remember Rocky and Jim were always going to show the young kids "how the game was played."

TETHERBALL PAD

In the 1950s the tetherball pad was actually the site of the EV fire pit. The fire pit was relocated in the early 1960s to it's present location so it would be closer to the snack bar. For many years now, tetherball games have filled the air with the sound of the whistling ball as it goes around the pole.

PING PONG TABLES

In the early days the ping pong tables were used on Pappy's Porch. Once the basketball court was relocated from the dirt area, the ping pong tables were moved to their present location.

PLAY AREA-TREE HOUSE, SLIDE, LAWN AREA

In the early days a wooden tree house with a slide was constructed and became the central area of kids play. Over the years the wooden structure became weak and the slide became unusable. In 1990, the tree house and slide were replaced with the present structure during EV work days. In 1984, the lawn area planted near the tetherball pad and some perimeter trees were planted to surround the area to provide a play area. It quickly became the site of some fierce Bocci Ball games for all ages. Many of the children's special events have been held in this area, balloon toss, relays, etc.

RIFLE RANGE

In the early days a rifle range was developed at the end of Lodge Heights in a large open area where the trees were cleared. Part of the mountain side was cut away creating a solid back drop of dirt for shooting practice. On occasion this area was used also for archery practice. In July of 1975 the area was closed as a rifle range due to the lack of insurance coverage and frequent misuse by some individuals.

ENCHANTED VALLEY ACTIVITIES

A major attraction aside from the natural beauty, the people and location are the events and activities that take place at Enchanted Valley. Recreational activities such as camping, hiking and fishing brought the original shareholders here. The varied social events bring people back and keep Enchanted Valley thriving.

In talking to full-time residents of the Santa Cruz Mountains, this type of community or similar variation used to be fairly common. A group would form buying mountain property with cabin or camping sites for weekend and/or vacation use. Most of these groups have long since dissolved. One of the reasons they didn't last was the lack of social structure. Unlike EV these groups did not have social or business activities to bring and hold them together.

The people of Enchanted Valley do get together. Families and friends gather to relax and visit, wine and dine, whine and dine some more, and recreate and work. Some people might think that having homes, busy careers, and families to take care of is enough but EV people buy a cabin and have an additional 50 acres to take care of. Just in case there is any time left we have formed a recreation committee that keeps a full schedule. It is this involvement that allows EV to exist and for its members to have great times and life-long experiences.

FAMILY EVENTS

Enchanted Valley is a place for families. Many families have had reunions, birthdays, and anniversary celebrations. Another event, the father/son baseball games of the past were very spirited. Quite a competition existed between dads and sons all in the name of good sportsmanship. Among the family events weddings are probably the most memorable. Some of the weddings that have been held were:

Alan Bates (Rita Boyles' son)	1981
Paul & Camille Bolinger	1982
Mike & Sherry Bolt (Wes Downing's niece)	1975
Tom & Linnea Downing	1982
Gene & Lori Fields	1989
Scott & Karen Ireland	1982
Mitch & Gina Kanter	1974
Gail Lenahan (Leonard Kirkegaard's daughter)	1981
Jeff & Mackie Leard (Carol Lane's grandson)	1986
Janet Wycoff

*Announced for 1992 Howie Kanter & Jennifer Pearce

SOCIAL EVENTS

There have been quite a few social events throughout the years. The following activities are some of the good times shared.

Dances: There have been Square Dances and 50's Dances. The Off Season Dinner Dance has always been popular. This year there were even dance lessons to rap music after the ribbon cutting ceremony for the pool remodel. In fact the only dance not yet held is Dances With Wolves.

Children's Activities: Past favorites as mentioned earlier were the hayrides and the movies under the stars at Pappy's Porch. Some of the more recent activities include the Tent Campout where a scary story or two was told. Although Kid's Day is every day at EV, on the Fourth of July weekend there are specially planned crafts, games and goodies. On a daily basis the children have all the facilities to play with as mentioned in the Sports Facilities chapter with swimming being a favorite. At the UNtalent Show the children steal the show every year with their songs and special talents. Every weekend night during the "Season", the kids enjoy roasting and wearing marshmallows by the campfire or playing Hide & Seek as darkness fills the Valley. This is truly a wonderful place for kids to grow up.

Games: Bocci Ball, Bingo, Ping Pong, Basketball and Horseshoes are games played often around EV. Another game often played (that volumes could be written about) is "High Stakes" Poker.

Other Activities: There are also some other activities of interest like the Men's Bathing Suit Contest and the Crazy T-Shirt Day where there's been some doosies. Another favorite is the annual Craft Fair. This Fair gives EV craftsmen an opportunity to display wares and gives all who attend a chance to purchase and enjoy some of the truly gifted talent. For example Paul and Camille Bolinger are nationally recognized for their Father Christmas carvings. In the spring there is a Work-Party weekend. Many shareholders get together to clean up the Valley after a long winter and before the opening of the summer season. The event that brings families together and is enjoyed by everyone are the EV meals.

THE MEALS OF ENCHANTED VALLEY

Whether it be breakfast, lunch, or dinner at the sound of the EV bell everyone gathers to feast at Pappy's Porch. A family or group of families sponsor a meal and people get together in a beautiful grove of redwood trees to enjoy. This is what EV is all about - getting together to enjoy. Over the years there have been some incredible meals. Below is a sampling:

CORPORATE ACTIVITIES

In addition to the fun times Enchanted Valley Investors have business responsibilities. The Board of Directors has the responsibility to run the business of the corporation. Committees and sub-committees report to the Board on various subjects for which they were formed. The basic committees are: Activities, Buildings and Grounds, and Operations. Sub-committees are formed to take care of specific problems and meet until the task or problem is completed. Examples of this would be the Pool Committee or the History Committee.

It should be noted that the election of the Board of Directors in the past was quite an event. Rigorous campaigns with banners and flyers, campaign matches, and campaign speeches were waged to serve on the Board. Originally the Board consisted of seven people, then was changed to nine and currently has seven members. There is a president, a vice-president, a treasurer, and a secretary. Rounding out the business side of EV is a bookkeeper and a full time business representative.

Enchanted Valley is truly unique not only because of its location and beauty but because of the people and their involvement.

CONCLUSION

In the beginning of Enchanted Valley Al Feinstein and his family took a chance at a dream. It wasn't easy to drop everything and move to the country, but they did it. Later when the original Shareholders purchased shares of stock in the Corporation, they were taking a risk. It wasn't easy for them either but they had a vision of what Enchanted Valley could become. It took a lot of courage and we thank them for it. For these reasons 65 families are enjoying the beauty of this 50 acre family camp.

There have been other areas in the Santa Cruz Mountains with the same concept of Enchanted Valley, but none of them have survived like Enchanted Valley has. The rules and regulations have kept Enchanted Valley what it is today. The continued success of Enchanted Valley is also attributed to the on-going hard work of several generations who work together to keep the tradition alive.

"Enchanted Valley people" are a very talented, diverse, and special group who work together to keep Enchanted Valley going. Whether it's putting on a dinner, sitting under the arbor at poolside telling stories and jokes, or gathering around the fire roasting marshmallows, everyone enjoys each other's company.

People have found out about Enchanted Valley in several different ways. Some of them have been brought here by family, friends, neighbors, work associates, casual acquaintances, and even the newspaper. One thing for sure, they all fell in love with the area.

One of the greatest things about Enchanted Valley is that it is a safe and healthy environment for children. This is one place they can run around freely. They can swim, fish, and hike, but they do have to watch out for poison oak! Children can be sent to the store/snack bar where they learn how to deal with money and are always waited on courteously and fairly. The "trusting" atmosphere of Enchanted Valley even allows children to charge purchases to their parent's name.

In the early days Enchanted Valley was referred to as "The Ranch." Today it is referred to as "The Valley." It doesn't matter what you call it, Enchanted Valley is a place to enjoy with family and friends.

For 35 years there have been many improvements added to the natural beauty of Enchanted Valley. These are only a small portion of the true assets. The real values are in the families who belong. They are "Enchanted Valley."

Enchanted Valley History Committee, 1992

INSERTS

THIS ENCHANTED VALLEY

(To the Tune of Red River Valley)

by Paul Bolinger

From this valley they say we are leaving,
The season's end is almost here,
So until we are back here next summer,
We'll remember this valley so dear.

This valley they say is enchanted,
A place so special and dear,
We'll always remember this valley,
And the good times we have right here.

The fun we share here is endless,
You'll find us running and swimming all day,
And when nighttime descends upon us,
Round the old campfire we play.

Along with our mommies and daddies,
Brothers, sisters, and other kids too,
we'll always remember this valley,
And every one of you.

ENCHANTED VALLEY SONG

by Al Feinstein

In the heart of the mountains of Santa Cruz,
You'll find a heavenly joy.
A place to romp without your shoes,
For every little girl and boy, oh boy, oh boy!
And then you'll be in Enchanted Valley,
And you're friends will be there too!
And you'll have more fun than anyone,
Even you, and you, and you!!!

ENCHANTED VALLEY

(Music from the Sleep Song)
Lyrics by Barry Brill

Blue Skies and the warm air of summer
Trees that shade with deep forest green
Ocean breezes drift up redwood hillsides
Into a place we call Enchanted Valley

Cold winter days the chill is upon us
Trees lose their leaves on cloudy grey skies
Ocean storms sweep through the forest
Into a place we call Enchanted Valley

We are blessed with the beauty of the Valley
The seasons - the friends - Together we share
Wonderful times We'll remember forever
All from a place we call Enchanted Valley

Good Friends Good Times We'll remember
Good Friends Good Times Enchanted Valley

WHAT IS ENCHANTED VALLEY

What is this place called Enchanted Valley?
Is it just a place where you camp and dally?
By definition, a private family ranch camp.
Where it's even fun in the winters cold and damp.

Why do you enjoy coming up, and being here?
Not just in the summer, I mean all the year.
What makes a place like this, hum and really go?
Is it the creek, or pool, do you and I know?

Maybe it's the movies on every Saturday night.
Could be the relaxing when you know all's all right.
Why is it when school's out and summer's here,
There's hustle and bustle? Aha! the families appear.

Maybe it's the area with the tall Redwoods
Could be the Serpas, maybe just the Atwoods
Heck, could be the Kanters, Lavers, or Moores
Maybe it's the Boyds with their always open doors.

Could be the Owners, Al and Ann Feinstein.
Then there's the Jardines, they're just fine.
There's Jewish and Portuguese and the Irish too.
Italian, English, German and a just plain you.

Maybe the bridge that's played kinda wild,
Or the songs we sing, or just a little child,
That makes Enchanted Valley a place for us,
Just a place you can come without a lot of fuss.

Maybe it's the potlucks or games on holidays.
Is it get-to-gethers we have on certain days?
Maybe it's picnics or hikes to hidden falls.
Is it trailers, or cabins with plywood walls?

If I were asked to name just one definite thing,
That makes Enchanted Valley have its zing.
I'd have to say people, that you get to know.
They're nicer and friendlier than anywhere you go.

Names like Bakich and Eckgren or Gene Mahoney,
Even Sorocci, Smith or Kram, not one a phoney,
Macquoid, Ciolino, Player, Lyon, Elder and Hall,
All are great, be it Winter, Spring, Summer or Fall.

Enchanted Valley is you and me and others too,
It makes no difference, what we are or do.
We're a League of Nations gathered at a Spa,
No conflicts or pettiness that's the line we draw.

- Jim Boyd

The season '66 is here
and with it comes a welcome cheer.
A quick review of every name
may put you in the Hall of Fame.

The Atwoods are quite a five-some except of course that little jive-one.

I'd rather fight than switch my name from Bakich to the Hall of Fame.

Follow Bates along the trails and you will learn a million tales.

Boyd's cabin's like Grand Central stay too long and you'll go mental.

The Bullard group aren't really wayward just because they hail from Hayward.

Dig that Cantwell he's never cold
when his neighbors freeze, he laughs I'm told.

The House of Babel up on the hill is where the Charlings keep their still.

Church is a name that's free of sin but Roger's got the devil within.

Who's he or she, Pete or Joe one look at both and you will know.

You'll never guess who's boss at Clarks'
Blake runs the show and boy it shmarts.

Crawfords are as quiet as sheep
but then still waters do run deep.

Downings have been having fun
have you seen their newest one?

It started out with quite a hassel
as Elders built the camp Hearst Castle.

Fried's a funny little guy
but beware he's not too shy.

Farmers say you can't beat Griffin
'cause that aint hay he's always sniffin.

For Les and Tama it was quite a thrill
each time they raced their car up hill.

That famous hayride was to blame for Richard Hall's name of fame.

'Round and 'round and 'round he goes where he's going just Handly knows.

Harbert says he always wins with half the effort he had twins.

Connie Hinds is a lot of fun
but Horace is a jealous one.

It's hardly worth this space it seems everyone knows the George Jardines.

History was made at camp last fall and I aint kidden, just ask Saul.

'Tis not only true of the product of Delsey
There's also a definite difference in Kelsey.

Five lovely girls one lonely man
'Tis the status of the Kram clan.

Larson Ken while he's in camp is bound to be the ping-pong champ.

Organ grindin' Barbara Laver turns out tunes with a swingin' savor.

The Lyons really jumped for joy
when the lastest bundle was a boy.

Joyce Maffeo keeps a smile on Ed
by properly keeping the guy well fed.

He makes believe he's a long haired ham
but Gene is really a Beattle man.

Betty is much too good for him
the guy who had the shnozzle trim.

Dean started out with a little shack
but now he's out front side and back.

We seldom see the Nobler gang but when we do it's with a bang.

There is one guy who's pretty wholesome
he's known about as Smiley Olson.

When the power's out we go to him
the guy we call Short-Circuit Jim.

Pat Brown sent out from his home town
Palmer Leroy to brouse aroun'.

This Palmer is a man of glass
he lacks in looks but he's got class.

If you feel the urge to talk see Charles Payne our Dr. Spock.

Papa Pennell aint just slow
it's Mary Anne who runs the show.

They're always gay and laughin' too
Jackie and Art keep smilin' through.

The Pryles know just how to swing
when on the floor they ding-a-ling.

Douglas R. was proper and prim
'til his neighbors started changing him.

Grandma R. is nice to know
but Grandpa R. hits pretty low.

Rocky was squeezed until he sang now he's owned by the Mafia gang.

Carl and Joan are nice to know
just mosey over it will show.

The Shepards down at Brook View way are in the corner tucked away.

With gooey oils and a canvas back
Carol can paint an edible snack.

The Donald Smiths must love us all they've been here often since last fall.

In order to differentiate these are the doodlebug Smiths of late.

This Smith is really a funny egg
when he wants a rest he breaks a leg.

The Sparks' children just love the brook at fishin' time they get all shook.

Wilsons' boy's the youngest we've seen to build a cabin at seventeen.

If you're omitted from the Hall of Fame
Remember, we love you just the same.

- Al Feinstein
